

For immediate release: January 28, 2021

Library board welcomes new members

The Regina Public Library Board of Directors is pleased to welcome three new board members.

Mayor Sandra Masters, became a member of the board at the date of her swearing in (Nov. 23, 2020). City Councillor John Findura was appointed to the board after his re-election as councillor for Ward 5.

Also joining the board is Cheryl Zankl, retired CIBC District Vice President for south Saskatchewan. Cheryl is also the Past Chair of the South Saskatchewan Community Foundation, the current Chair of the CIBC Retiree Advisory Council, and a volunteer with Regina Garden Associates.

All three were welcomed at the board's annual general meeting on January 26.

"Our newest board members bring a wealth of experience and backgrounds, and I look forward to their insights and ideas," said Sean Quinlan, Chair of the RPL Board of Directors.

Quinlan was re-elected as Board Chair at the AGM. Board member Marj Gavigan was elected as Vice Chair, replacing retired Vice Chair Barbara March-Burwell.

"It's a privilege to once again chair a board with such expertise, experience, and skill," Quinlan said. "2020 was a challenging year for us all. We've learned from it, adapted to it, and I'm confident this board can lead us to continued success."

RPL Board member photos and biographies are available on our website:

<https://www.reginalibrary.ca/about/leadership>

-30-

For more information:

Colleen Hawkesford

Manager, Marketing and Communications

Regina Public Library

chawkesford@reginalibrary.ca

306.777.6015