Regina Public Library hosts online event series for International Women's Day

Regina Public Library will celebrate International Women's Day with an online event series presented by Canadian women experts, March 8-11.

"We want to create opportunities for women in our community to celebrate, to be inspired by trailblazers, and to learn something that's useful to their own lives," said Nancy MacKenzie, Manager, Community Engagement and Programming. "Our lineup is tailored to sharpen real-world skills for success."

Presenters include Indigenous women in business, authors, financial planners and award-winning leadership consultants. They share a passion for their work and a deep interest in helping other women gain the confidence to thrive.

The series kicks off March 8 at 7:00pm with Strategies for Success: Indigenous Women in Business, a panel discussion on the triumphs and challenges of four business leaders from across Canada, facilitated by Danielle Goulden from Reconciliation Regina.

Following events include an author talk from award-winning historian Merle Massie on her recent book A Radiant Life: The Honourable Sylvia Fedoruk Scientist, Sports Icon, and Stateswoman; Financial Security For Women: Be Your Own CFO, presented by financial planner Nicole C. Putz; and the Habits Of Successful Women, presented by leadership consultant Linda Allen-Hardisty, the first woman to win TEC Canada's Red Shoe Award.

Events are offered live online via Zoom. Participants can register on the RPL website. The full event schedule can be found on the library's featured events webpage, www.reginalibrary.ca/explore/featured-events.
